GUNPOWDER PLOT

A luxe collection handcrafted in yellow and rose gold, Ilia's new Fireworks collection features a breathtaking design of seemingly scattered rubies and diamonds, which incorporate movement and bursts of vibrant colour. Thick chunks of Myanmar jade also take centre stage, making for a beautiful contrast against an explosion of red, gold and white.

FLY GIRLS

Both timeless and iconic, much of Graff's jewellery is set with clusters of fluttering butterflies that are brought to life by dazzling pavé diamonds. A signature motif, butterflies also define the design of Graff's latest collection, Butterfly Silhouette.

SPIRALS IN TIME

Revered by the jewellery industry for its modern twists on classic structures, Forms has unveiled its latest jaw-dropping creation. This sun-kissed pair of oversized earrings are inspired by the humble seashell.

Mounted on lightweight titanium, round brilliant-cut diamonds are elegantly assembled in mouthwatering shades of honey and orange.

CHASING VINES

Mixed-cut diamonds dominate Tiffany & Co's latest collection: Tiffany Victoria Vine. Inspired by the patterns found in nature, round brilliant- and marquise-cut diamonds add flickers of light to this vine-shaped line. Choose from necklaces, bracelets, earrings and pendants that all meander with the movement of the wearer.

ROSE GARDEN

Graceful and understated, the Piaget Rose collection was first introduced in 2012 to pay tribute to an award-winning flower named after founder Yves Piaget. Now, the jeweller offers new additions to its iconic collection, which has been reinterpreted with a more stylish petal design. Set in rose or white gold, brilliant-cut diamonds adorn the rings, earrings and necklaces that modernise Piaget Rose for 2020.

Small Talk IRENE NEUWIRTH

Part of Net-a-Porter's fine watch and jewellery campaign, the California-based designer talks about gemstones and what the future holds

Describe your jewellery in five words.
Feminine, strong, colourful, beautiful, whimsical.

Who would you love to see wearing your jewellery?
Senator Kamala Harris (the Democratic vice-presidential nominee for the 2020 US election), and she did! When I found out, I was over the moon.

If you weren't a jeweller, what would you be?
Probably an interior designer. Scratch that: a horse trainer!

What are your favourite gemstones?
Opals. They're beautiful and unique and remind me of the bottom of the sea.

Where are you travelling to next?
I'm really looking forward to going back to New York to see my mom and my sister when Covid-19 has passed.

Why have you collaborated with Net-a-Porter?
I have always been a fan of Net-a-Porter, so when they gave me the opportunity to introduce my jewellery collections to their sophisticated and chic audience, I couldn't say no.
