In Rosy Spirits

The year 2020 was full of uncertainty, but what's for sure is the stellar results from Sotheby's jewellery division, which did much to brighten our dreary days under lockdown. The most valuable jewel sold in 2020 goes to the Spirit of the Rose, the world's largest fancy vivid purple-pink diamond ever to appear at auction. The 14.83-carat internally flawless diamond set a new world record when it went for US$26.6 million at Sotheby's Geneva Magnificent Jewels auction in November.

Alluring Shapes

In designing its high-jewellery collections, Giorgio Armani has never strayed from taking inspiration from its own distinctive motifs. The latest collection is Circle, featuring circular forms for a pure and elegant look. The necklaces, rings, bracelets and earrings are enhanced by a torchon finish, and beautifully pair vivid rubies together with champagne-coloured diamonds.

Fauvist Inclinations

Écllosion de Chaumet is an ode to radiant femininity, an explosion of precious stones that recall the vivid tones of the French Fauvist masters. This butterfly brooch in yellow gold is set with a 5.30-carat cushion-cut Mandarin garnet, paired with yellow and pink sapphires, red spinets, Paraiba and green tourmalines, tsavorite garnets, emeralds, lapis lazuli, onyx, carnelian, rubellite and brilliant-cut diamonds.

JADE EXPERT ILIA HAS PARTNERED WITH CENTURY-OLD ITALIAN JEWELLER SCAVIA TO DESIGN A SERIES OF TITANIUM RINGS THAT ARE INLAID WITH JADEITE AND EMBELLISHED WITH BRILLIANT-CUT WHITE DIAMONDS. JADEITE JEWELLERY HAS NEVER LOOKED MORE FUTURISTIC
